GROWTH AND CHANGE

Community Conversations

It will affect all regions of the district.

As you know, great things are happening in our schools each day. There are also some critical challenges, such as consistent enrollment growth, affecting our schools today, which will become more serious in the coming years.

Overcrowding in our schools will have an impact on your family as your child progresses through high school, and we want you to know the issues.

Come to one of five community conversations listed to the right.
