

Kaiser Permanente Thriving Schools Honor Roll

Champions for Healthy Schools

Do you know an individual doing something exemplary to create a healthy school community?

The Kaiser Permanente Thriving Schools Honor Roll awards program recognizes individuals championing sustainable, healthy school environments. The program celebrates successes, recognizes innovation and elevates best practices.

Who is eligible to be nominated for a Kaiser Permanente Thriving Schools Honor Roll award?

Members of a Kaiser Permanente Thriving Schools school or school district community, including staff, teachers, youth, parents, school or community leaders, and union leaders who:

- Promote healthy school communities for students and staff through strategies such as:
 - Creating school systems and environments that promote healthy eating and physical activity
 - Creating school systems and environments that promote social and emotional health and wellness
 - Leading policy change to promote student and staff wellness
 - Improving school climate
- Demonstrate vision, creativity and a collaborative spirit in championing sustainable changes at schools.
- Inspire other school community members to take action.

How do you nominate an eligible candidate?

Please share your ideas for potential nominees with your Kaiser Permanente Thriving Schools representative/regional lead. Online nominations will open on September 27 and close on October 12, 2018.
