

Leadership Story

2/24/20

The background of the slide features a series of thin, curved lines in a light gray color, creating a sense of motion and depth. These lines are more prominent on the left side and fade towards the right.

What has Made Me a Leader?

- Experiences at multiple levels and different areas of education
- The people I have been fortunate to work with
- My desire to find ways to help students succeed

A red speech bubble graphic with a white outline, containing the text "Personal Story".

Personal Story

- Substitute Teaching
- 13 years as a classroom teacher and coach
- Slowly began taking on building leadership roles
- Currently in my sixth year in administration

Leadership Right Now

- Establishing a positive staff and student culture through transitions
- Being responsive to staff and student needs
- Creating systems that ensure students are growing

What I Have Learned

- Staying true to my values
- Needing to be flexible and adaptive
- I do not know everything
- Continuously working on creating a climate where staff and students enjoy coming to work
- I have to project the attitude I want in my staff

Why Everett?

- The people I have worked with are focused on student growth
- This is a very collaborative environment, where you are encouraged to connect with colleagues
- Everett has a proactive problem solving approach
- Everett challenges me to be better every day
