Hello EPS Staff –

59%!!! We were so close to passing our bond this month – it feels like having the last second game-winning field goal hit the uprights and not go through. It is heartbreaking, but I still feel encouraged. I am encouraged because I saw so many staff and community rally around our kids – and that is what this is all about – it is about the kids!

In many other states this bond would have passed with such a great percentage. We will continue and try to convince our legislators that a required supermajority isn't what is in the best interest of our students. In the meantime we will work with you, parents and the community to determine our next steps.

I want to thank all of you for your efforts in communicating the importance of this bond to our families and community. I appreciate the work you did and am proud of the teamwork I saw in the process. We will continue to what is best for kids and work together as a team to make the upcoming year a great one for all.

Have a great weekend

Ian
