Dani Mundell earns athletic administrator certification by NIAAA

[Everett, WA] — Everett Public Schools is pleased to announce our Athletic and Activities Director, Dani Mundell has been recognized as a Certified Athletic Administrator. This prestigious recognition underscores Mundell's commitment to excellence and leadership in interscholastic athletic administration.

To earn this distinction, Mundell demonstrated the highest level of knowledge and expertise in the field. The voluntary certification process included a comprehensive evaluation of Mundell's educational background, professional experience, and contributions to the field, culminating in a rigorous written examination. Achieving this certification places Mundell among an elite group of interscholastic athletic administrators nationwide who have attained this level of professionalism.

"Dani's dedication to advancing our athletic programs and commitment to professional development is commendable," said Superintendent Dr. Ian Saltzman. "This recognition by the NIAAA reflects the hard work and passion Dani brings to our school community every day. We are incredibly proud of her accomplishments and the positive impact on our student-athletes."

The NIAAA, based in Indianapolis, IN, is an accredited organization dedicated to the professional development of interscholastic athletic administrators. With over 12,000 individual members, the NIAAA comprises member state athletic administrator associations across the 50 states, the District of Columbia, and internationally. The organization's mission is to champion the profession of athletic administration through educational opportunities, advocating for ethics, developing leaders, and fostering community.
