

September 19, 2007

For more information:

Becky Ballbach, 425-385-4086

Mary Waggoner, 425-385-4049

Four other districts join Everett to produce What About Tomorrow?

Everett Public School's career fair has been so successful over the years that Arlington, Edmonds, Lake Stevens, and Mukilteo school districts have joined the team to co-sponsor this year's October 16 event. This cross county partnership is sure to bring thousands of students and community members to learn about Snohomish County's top 10 employment sectors and the careers and training avenues available therein, said one of Everett's organizers and the district's lead counselor, Becky Ballbach.

This year's event is set for Tuesday, Oct. 16 and will again take place at the Comcast Arena at the Everett Events Center from 1:30 - 6:30 p.m.

Much more than a job fair, the Career and College Fair showcases the wide variety of post-secondary institutions — including colleges, universities and technical schools — and career opportunities that exist in the work world, with a focus on in-demand industries in Snohomish County. The fair will be divided into marked sections featuring educators, business leaders, and training providers in industry clusters, including biotechnology, health services, advanced manufacturing, construction, and hospitality. Metal street signs will mark paths to each industry sector area as well as to areas to learn about local colleges and career information.

Sponsored jointly by Everett Public Schools and Workforce Development Council Snohomish County, the Career and College Fair provides students with the chance to speak with representatives from colleges, technical schools, trades, and businesses.

All staff, students, parents, and community members are invited to the fair from 1:30 — 6:00 p.m. on October 16th. Visit the Everett School District Career and College Fair web site at www.everett.k12.wa.us/careerfair to download a free event brochure.