THE ART HOW2'S 2013: THE ART OF OBSERVATION APRIL 10, 17, 24 & MAY 1, 2013

The Schack Art Center is offering the fourteenth annual Art Technique Workshop Series for credit or clock hours. This course consists of 4 evening sessions (Apr. 10, 17, 24, & May 1) taught by Nancy Jordan/Deborah Barten, local art educators. This class will focus on familiarizing teachers with tools for the K-8 classroom to help their students learn how to closely observe the physical world and communicate that visually using a variety of art forms and media. The first session will explore the purpose and importance in developing sharp observation skills. This concept will then be demonstrated through instruction and practice using the techniques of drawing, painting, collage and 3D sculpture.

Workshop Goals:

To give participants background on the appropriate means for teaching observation skills through art in the classroom, including;

- °Age appropriate assignments based on established theories of child development in Art.
- °Knowledge of the use of classroom materials in conjunction with medium being studied: what to use, where to order them, costs, etc.
- °Tips and ideas on classroom management/clean-up considerations specific to the art medium being studied.
- °Ideas on assessing skill development in Art.

Who is the workshop for?

Teachers, youth service providers, parent volunteers, art docents, and interested individuals who want to improve and increase their knowledge and skill and thereby feel more comfortable teaching and creating art.
