RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Everett High School offered a girls wrestling team with a coach dedicated to this program, rather than shared with the boys program. Twenty-four girls started and completed the season. The district should investigate adding girls wrestling coaches at Cascade and Jackson High Schools as well. By offering a separate girls wrestling program it is likely more girls will participate in this sport and increase female athletic participation.
2. Schools in the Northshore, Lake Washington, and Bellevue school districts have successfully added girls badminton as a spring sport to increase female participation. Offering this sport in Everett Public Schools may lead to an increase in female athletic participation. In the 2017 Student Interest Survey, 28.6% of the female respondents indicated they would be interested in playing this sport in the spring.
