When to Wear a Mask

Labor and Industry Guidelines

Washington Department of Health, Labor & Industries and OSPI have established guidelines that we must both socially distance and wear face coverings. Therefore, employees need to wear a cloth mask unless working alone.

So, what does that mean?

When you need to wear a mask When you don't need to wear a mask When you enter the building, or if you're When you are in an office by your self walking to the building in proximity of When you are in a conference room by colleagues yourself When you walk the corridors and/or are • When you are eating in the cafe in common, well-traveled areas (copy • When you are in your personal cubicle room, bathroom, lunchroom (except for that has four walls that are at least 6 foot when you are eating), where you could high (with an opening in the fourth wall come in contact with others for entry) When you are in an office or conference When you are completely alone in your room with a colleague (even if you are cubicle wing because your colleagues social distancing) haven't yet arrived or have gone home When you are standing in the doorway of a person's office • When you are at your cubicle if it does not have four walls that are at least 6 feet high (This is what is required to keep you away from the "breathing zone" of anyone walking by)
