Teens can register now for Youth Leadership Summit!

Washington State Youth Leadership Summit 2010 set for Nov. 13

EVERETT – Teens ages 14-18 are invited to attend the fourth Annual Washington State Youth Leadership Summit on Saturday Nov. 13 in Everett. Register online now at:

<http://www.ci.everett.wa.us/default.aspx?ID=428>

The Everett Mayor's Youth Council is hosting the Summit to connect youth from across the state with elected officials, business leaders and non-profit organizations. The event will be at the Weyerhaeuser Room at the Everett Station, 3201 Smith Ave. in downtown Everett.

The Summit features outstanding speakers and presenters from around the state. The Summit is designed for youth 14 to 18 years old and includes a welcome by Everett Mayor Ray Stephanson, expert speakers, interactive break-out sessions and a luncheon featuring roundtable discussions with political, non-profit and business leaders in the community.

The day-long Summit starts at 9 a.m. Saturday Nov. 13 at the Weyerhaeuser Room at the Everett Station, 3201 Smith Ave. in Everett. Registration is FREE thanks to sponsorships by Anderson Hunter Law Firm, Hyundai of Everett, Brien Ford, Rodland Toyota, The BERC Group and Providence General Foundation. Space is limited so registration is required to attend the event.

The day's general session will feature Shawn O'Donnell, entrepreneur and magician.

Break-out sessions include:

- Young Professionals Panel
- Where will you go?

Roundtable Discussion leaders include:

- Everett Mayor Ray Stephanson
- Everett Fire Chief Murray S. Gordon
- Everett Police Chief Jim Scharf
- Jake Whittenberg, King 5 News
- Terry Potter, Registered Nurse
- Sgt. Dan Johnson, Everett Police Department
- Daniel Hanks, real estate
- Jack Shannon, real estate
- Carol Thomas, cultural arts manager
