

Inductive conclusion- First determine evidence, then draw the conclusion

Name _____

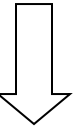

Drawing Conclusions Graphic Organizer

Directions: You can record your background knowledge (BK) any time. After reading and coding the text, record your facts and details in the middle box of the graphic organizer.

Now draw your conclusion.

Background knowledge (What did you already know?)

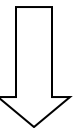

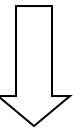

Stop and think about the information and write how the conclusion relates to what you already know.

Facts and Details:

Think about the passage that you just read.

Record facts/details from the text that support the conclusion.

Conclusion: