

Double-Entry Response Guides for During Reading

As you read, your comprehension will improve if you engage with the text. There are numerous ways to interact with the text. One strategy for tracking your interactions includes making double-entry responses to what you read. See the following suggestions.

1. Listing interesting details and summarizing
2. Identifying important ideas and stating the author's purpose
3. Selecting direct quotes and wondering
4. Selecting direct quotes and making a connection such as "This reminds me of. . ."
5. Selecting direct quotes and drawing or describing what you are visualizing
6. Selecting direct quotes and stating why you're feeling confused
7. Selecting direct quotes and making a prediction
8. Selecting direct quotes and making a comment
9. Selecting direct quotes and making a comparison to another text

Using an electronic graphic organizer to make your entries will help you track your responses. See attached.

Double-Entry Responses

Direct quote and page number	I'm confused because...
1.	1.
2.	2.
3.	3.
4.	4.
5.	5.

Double-Entry Responses

Direct quote and page number	I visualize...
1.	1.
2.	2.
3.	3.
4.	4.
5.	5.

Double-Entry Responses

Direct quote and page number	This reminds me of...
1.	1.
2.	2.
3.	3.
4.	4.
5.	5.

Double-Entry Responses

Direct quote and page number	I wonder...
1.	1.
2.	2.
3.	3.
4.	4.
5.	5.

Double-Entry Responses

What's important or interesting to me

Author's message (what is the author trying to say?)

--	--

Double-Entry Responses

Interesting Details

Summary of Learning

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

6.

7.

8.

Double-Entry Responses

Direct quote and page number	I predict...
1.	1.
2.	2.
3.	3.
4.	4.
5.	5.

Double-Entry Responses

Direct quote and page number	I think...
1.	1.
2.	2.
3.	3.
4.	4.
5.	5.

Double-Entry Responses

Direct quote and page number	This compares/contrasts with...
1.	1.
2.	2.
3.	3.
4.	4.
5.	5.